

Celebrate! May

May 3 – Fourth Sunday of Easter

Believe it or not, the Easter season still has four weeks to go. Share and enjoy stories of new life with one another.

May 5 – Cinco de Mayo

This day celebrates freedom and liberty in Mexico, so enjoy a Mexican dish at a meal today or listen to Latin-inspired music.

May 10 – Mother's Day

Moms in the United States will receive 141 million greeting cards today. Instead of buying one, make your own for Mom.

May 13 – Our Lady of Fátima

May is the month of Mary. May altars and crownings for Mary are popular this month, but today take time to pray the Rosary, which Our Lady of Fátima encouraged all people to do.

May 25 – Memorial Day

Dedicated to remembering soldiers who died in wars, if there is a local parade in your area today, attending is a good way to remember them.

May 31 – Pentecost

Considered the birthday of the Church, this feast marks the coming of the Holy Spirit to the apostles and those with them nine days after the Ascension.
